December 5, 2019

Hello Business Owners,

The holiday season is upon us and I want to take a moment to thank each of you - for bringing your passion to your business and vitality to our city.

This month's newsletter highlights business successes throughout New Rochelle!

New Featured Businesses

Congratulations to the 13 new Featured Businesses! There are now 64 businesses who have earned the Featured Business distinction; offering entertainment, dining, shopping and services of all types. The qualifying businesses are promoted by the City online and in our marketing, and have the opportunity to participate in the New Downtown Resident program.

For more information or to apply visit the Featured Business website.

Chamber of Commerce Welcomes New Directors

The New Rochelle Chamber of Commerce has made several personnel changes as it continues its mission to foster economic growth and prosperity in the New Rochelle business community.

Farewell and thank you to Jennifer Lanser, who led the Chamber through many transitions and events over the last few years. We welcome Catherine White as the new Executive Director and Diamond Wollaston as the Deputy Director.

Local Businesses Support Community Thanksgiving

The 4th annual Community Thanksgiving Dinner was held Monday at the New Rochelle High School. Close to 200 New Rochelle residents were treated to a free Thanksgiving meal just days before the holiday thanks to the efforts of local leaders, sponsors and volunteers. The dinner was hosted by City Manager Chuck Strome and Schools Superintendent Dr. Laura Feijóo and featured delicious food from local restaurants.

“The dinner is a way for community members to come together in thanks for a time of sharing both a meal and friendship,” said City Manager Chuck Strome.

Special thanks to these contributors who made it possible:

- Alvin & Friends Restaurant
- Beechmont Tavern
- The Bread Factory
- Escape Latino
- Handcrafted Catering
- Krave
- Modern Restaurant and Lounge
- North End Tavern
- Olibar
- Pepe's Place
